

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

As the study of Sacred Geography is highly interesting, and an acquaintance with it quite necessary, in order to understand many parts of the Holy Scriptures, it is presumed that no apology is required for the publication of another SCRIPTURE ATLAS.

The present work, though engraved upon a small scale, is yet sufficiently large to embrace every name of importance; and, in compiling it, the best materials, both ancient and modern, have been carefully selected. Much important information has recently been obtained from the travels of Burckhardt and others, who have visited the Holy Land; particularly the countries adjacent to the river Jordan on the east, the country of Moab, and the land of Edom; also that of Sinai and its neighborhood. The maps of these countries, included in this Atlas, will therefore be found to differ materially from those already published in similar works, especially as to the topographical features. A striking instance will be observed in Plate 3, viz. the valley extending from the source of the river Jordan to the eastern gulf of the Red Sea: it was discovered by Mr. Burckhardt. [See his Travels in Syria and the Holy Land, p. 441, &c.] In justification of the difference that will be observed in the conformation of the peninsula of Sinai, we refer our readers to page 457 of the same work. In several Atlases a dark mountain-chain, extending from east to west, lat. 30° 30', is engraved. This does not exist: Burckhardt, p. 447, mentions a high insulated mountain, south of Gaza; and Sir F. Heniker, who crossed the desert from Sinai to Gaza, notices the mountains El Tyh, but says nothing of the chain above alluded to, called by Arrowsmith, Mount Seir. This mountain (Seir) appears to have been part of the range on the east of the valley El Araba, now called Djebel Shera; this, with the situations of Mount Hor, and the site of Sela or Petra, will be seen on reference to p. 421—445 of Burckhardt.* The new matter collected from Dr. Richardson's Travels will be seen in the tribes of Simeon,† Dan, Benjamin, Ephraim, and Issachar; in the latter the mountains of Gilboa are particularly worthy of remark, and also in Zebulon and Naphtali. Sir F. Henniker will ever remember the heights east of Gaza.‡

It is necessary to remark, that we have not followed the popular opinions concerning the situations of Paradise, Mount Ararat, and the original country of Abraham, &c, considering those which place them much farther east, as being by far the best founded, and the most agreeable to Scripture History.§ In the Map to illustrate the Journeyings of the Israelites, those stations distinguished by the Roman character are fixed according to the most probable conjectures.

In the Map of Canaan, showing its divisions after the return of the Jews from their Babylonish captivity, an attempt has been made to illustrate the principal travels of Christ. The routes are taken from Dr. Wells' Companion to the Bible. Those journeys in

* In support of the difference that will be seen in the maps of the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh, beyond Jordan, see Burckhardt, p. 286, (4 Djolan,) and 311—375. The route described from pages 316 to 345, includes part of the country west of Jordan, allotted to the tribes of Zebulon and Issachar.

† The following are the most important:—General description of the tribes of Simeon and Dan; situation of Gaza; site of Ashdod; the peculiar situation of Samaria; Nazareth; Cana, &c. The Doctor's remarks, and those of Burckhardt, corroborate each other concerning the mountains on the east and on the west of Jordan, above, and a little to the south of the Lake of Gennesareth.

§ These opinions are ably supported in a work entitled, "A Companion to the Holy Bible, the subject, Sacred Geography, originally composed by Edward Wells, D.D., with Additions by the Editor of Calmet's Dictionary of the Bible, 3 vols. 8vo. London, 1817."

which Jerusalem was not included, are omitted, as the scale of the map is too small to allow of their insertion without causing confusion. It may, however, be observed, that these were chiefly confined to Galilee, and the country beyond Jordan.

The execution of the graphic department, it is trusted, will afford general satisfaction, as every attention has been paid to combine elegance with accuracy.

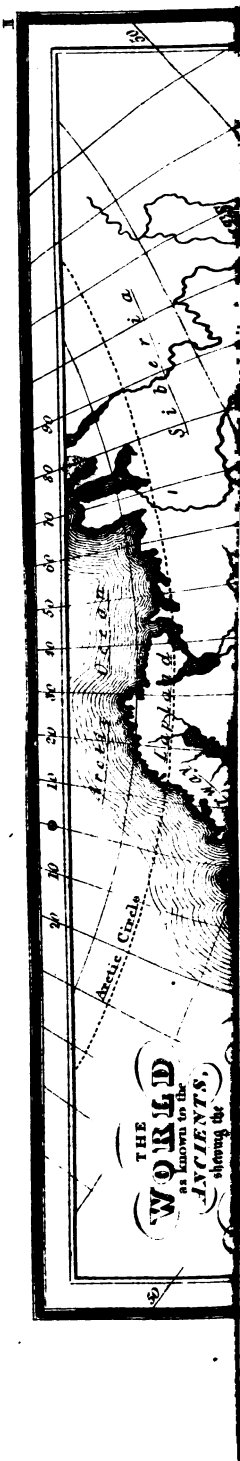

To render the Work as complete as possible, an INDEX is added, which the Editor trusts will be found particularly accurate.

SACRED GEOGRAPHY DELINEATED.

It may be proper to observe, that in "SACRED GEOGRAPHY DELINEATED," Cities, Towns, &c. mentioned in Scripture, yet not connected with any historical fact, or whose situation is altogether uncertain, are purposely omitted. The Index, therefore, only refers to places whose situation is actually known, or to which probability is attached. Both classical and modern names are printed in Italics; the distinction will be seen on referring to the Maps.
